Instead of a call this week, how about I just throw out a potential date for a meeting?

Some of my team will be in Des Moines on Oct 1 for an unrelated meeting, so we could hold our meeting at 10 on Oct 1 or the morning of Oct 2. Check with your team and then let me know if either of those would work. Thanks!

Hi, I am so sorry to have not been available for our scheduled call, and to be so late getting back in touch. Last Friday we concluded packing up the office of a colleague who passed away recently, and we just took extra time to try to get it done in one afternoon; then, this week so far has been a whirlwind.

Can we try scheduling another call time and I promise to be available?
